Accreditation

To enter certain areas of the sports facility, all persons must have accreditation. Accreditations will be issued by the organizing committee after registration and payment of the fees.

Buffet & Banquet

On competition days, a buffet will be available at the shooting range, which is included in the banquet fee. Mineral water will be provided free of charge; other beverages must be paid for at the shooting range. The banquet will be held on Saturday evening, September 6, in the restaurant "Zu den drei Linden." The buffet and banquet costs, like the entry fees, must be paid in advance by bank transfer.

Accommodation

National delegations are responsible for their own accommodation. There are numerous overnight accommodation options in Vienna. A list is available for download on the IAU website. We recommend timely booking in advance.

Accommodation - Motorhome Parking

There is a parking space nearby for those arriving with a motorhome. However, we recommend using a taxi for transportation between the parking space and the shooting range.

Transportation

The delegations are responsible for all transportation by themselves.

Transportation - Airport

There is a taxi office at Vienna Airport for transportation to Vienna at reasonable prices. Private airport taxis can be booked for transportation to the airport. However, it is recommended that you book transportation to and from the airport when booking your accommodation, if possible.

Transportation – Your Own Car

If you are traveling by car, please check whether parking is available/included when booking your accommodation. Parking fees apply in Vienna on the streets from Monday to Friday, from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Crossbow

In Austria, the crossbow is considered a weapon according to Section 1 of the Austrian Weapons Act, but not a firearm according to Section 2 of the Weapons Act (Firearms). No special forms are required for entry into or transport into Austria. The crossbow must be transported in a locked suitcase or lockable bag outside of the shooting range; this also applies within accommodation premises. We recommend checking with the airline before booking flights, as well as when transiting through other countries.
